

Trades Recognition Australia

Nomination of a Migration Agent or Representative

Completing this form will give authorisation to a migration agent/representative to enquire or act on behalf of an applicant for all Trades Recognition Australia (TRA) skills assessments services.

WHO CAN BE AN AGENT OR REPRESENTATIVE?

A migration agent who helps with a Trades Recognition Australia (TRA) skills assessment must either:

- be registered with OMARA (Office of the Migration Agents Registration Authority) under section 280 of the Migration Act 1958, or
- qualify under one of the exemption categories listed in the same section.

Others who can help include:

- Australian lawyers,
- Unpaid family members or friends,
- Certain officials.

If TRA learns that an unregistered migration agent is involved in a skills assessment, TRA will report them to OMARA (part of the Department of Home Affairs) for investigation.

Please remember: if you are not a registered migration agent or an Australian lawyer, you must not charge or receive any fee or reward for providing immigration assistance. As of 16 December 2025, doing so can result in up to 10 years in prison under section 281 of the Migration Act 1958.

Please refer to the Migration Act 1958 for up-to-date information.

PRIVACY NOTICE AND DECLARATION

Privacy Notice

Your personal information is protected by law, including the Privacy Act 1988. The Department of Employment and Workplace Relations (the department) collects your information to run Trades Recognition Australia programs. To do this, the department may collect, use, and share your personal information, including sensitive information.

Sometimes, the department may need to share information with other organisations to deliver these programs. This may include organisations outside Australia. Some overseas organisations are covered by different privacy laws that do not provide the same protections as Australian laws. By submitting this form, you agree that the department may collect your sensitive information and share your personal information with overseas recipients. The department will not make sure that any overseas recipients follow Australia's privacy laws.

The department may also get your personal information from or share it with, other people or organisations. This may include service providers who help deliver Trades Recognition Australia programs, or someone you have authorised to act on your behalf. You can learn more about how the department handles your personal information, including how to access or correct it, or how to make a privacy complaint, by reading our full privacy policy at dewr.gov.au/using-site/privacy-notice
