The Migration Points Advice Program

Section 1 Program Information

1.1 Introduction to Trades Recognition Australia

Trades Recognition Australia (TRA) is a business unit located within the Australian Government Department of Education, Skills and Employment. For the purposes of the Migration Regulations 1994, it has been specified by the Minister for Home Affairs as the “relevant assessing authority” for approximately 130 technical and trade occupations. TRA operates a number of different skills assessment services, which vary depending on the circumstances of the applicant.

1.2 Program objective

The Migration Points Advice Program (MPA) is for applicants applying for permanent skilled migration and may be required to provide points advice with their visa application to the Department of Home Affairs. Applicants to the MPA program must have first received a successful skills assessment from TRA directly, or via a TRA-approved Registered Training Organisation (RTO).

The MPA is a paper based skills assessment of your qualification/s and employment history to determine comparability with Australian standards for a skilled worker in your nominated occupation.

The MPA outcome is used to advise the Department of Home Affairs about eligible comparable qualifications and periods of relevant employment in assessing your visa application. As TRA does not issue points, all enquiries must be directed to the Department of Home Affairs (<http://www.homeaffairs.gov.au>).

You are required to check with the Department of Home Affairs whether you require points advice before submitting an application to TRA.

1.3 Applicant Guidelines

These Guidelines describe the MPA program and outline the eligibility requirements in applying for Points Advice under the MPA program. They do not provide specific information on migration or visa requirements.

TRA reserves the right to amend these Guidelines as necessary. Information about changes will be included in the document particulars table and posted as a news item on the TRA webpage.

1.4 Eligibility

You must hold a successful skills assessment outcome issued directly by TRA or through a TRA-approved RTO in your nominated occupation.

1.5 Fees

Service	Fee
Migration Points Advice based on a TRA Migration Skills Assessment or a skills assessment from a TRA approved RTO	$600
Migration Points Advice Review	$300

Payment must be made when you lodge your application and may only be made using a Visa or MasterCard credit/debit card through the online portal. All fees are payable in Australian dollars and instructions on how to pay are provided online when you apply.

After payment, an email containing the receipt will be automatically sent to your nominated email address. It is important to retain the email receipt as evidence of payment.

Once you have submitted your payment through the TRA online portal, a payment summary containing a customer reference number and receipt number will be generated. You must print the payment summary and include it with your application form.

No fees will be refunded if you decide to withdraw your application after TRA has commenced your assessment.

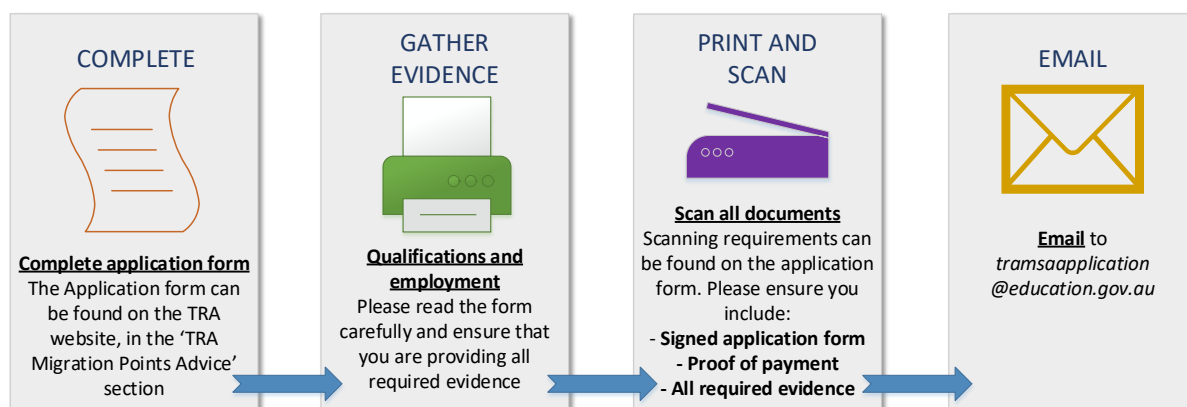

Section 2 Program Requirements and Processes

2.1 Application process

The application form for the MPA program can be found on the TRA website under Programs, Migration Points Advice.

All applications submitted to TRA must be decision ready. This means you are required to complete the application form, ensure you supply all evidence as required by the application form and these Guidelines, attach your proof of payment and email the complete application to TRA as indicated in Diagram 1.

Diagram 1

Full colour scans of your original documents must be supplied with your application. Please read the website carefully to make sure you have met all requirements before submitting your documents.

If you have a successful outcome issued directly by the TRA Migration Skills Assessment Program:

You are not required to resubmit documents you have already provided with a previous MSA application. You can submit any additional evidence you wish to have assessed for points advice.

If you have a successful outcome through a TRA-approved RTO:

You will need to submit all documents with your MPA application as specified in these guidelines.

2.2 Assessment outcome

You will receive notification of the outcome of your MPA application by email within 90 days of the date your application was received by TRA. A Points Advice letter will be attached to the email.

A news item will be posted on the TRA website if exceptional circumstances prevent TRA from meeting the 90 day requirement.

Your Points Advice letter can be presented to the Department of Home Affairs as part of your visa application.

2.3 Translating documents

If your application documents are not in English, they must be accompanied by an English translation.

2.3.1 Translating documents in Australia

Acceptable translations of documents in Australia may be obtained from translators accredited with the National Accreditation Authority for Translators and Interpreters (NAATI). Details of translators can be found in the Yellow Pages or the telephone directory under Translations or on NAATI's website at www.naati.com.au.

Please check the translator's accreditation by either calling NAATI on 1300 557 470 or asking to see the translator's letter or certificate of accreditation in the language you need. Translations by NAATI must include the translator's name, NAATI identification number and accreditation status.

2.3.2 Translating documents outside Australia

If you have documents translated outside Australia, the translator must be approved by the authorities in the country where the translation is made. Ask your nearest Australian Embassy, High Commission or Consulate for advice if you are unsure.

Overseas translations must be on the organisation's letterhead and include an official stamp. The translator's name (all in block letters), signature and contact telephone number must be legibly printed below the signature.

This information is required so that TRA can contact the translator if necessary to verify the translated documents.

2.4 Review

If you disagree with your outcome, you have 90 days from the date you receive your outcome to apply for a review. Your letter will contain information about how to apply for your review. You cannot supply any additional information with a review application.

Please note, TRA will only conduct a review where you are able to demonstrate TRA has incorrectly assessed the information you supplied in your original application. You cannot supply any additional evidence to support your original application, nor can you ask TRA to consider factors not set out in your original application during a review application.

If you wish to supply additional evidence or wish to ask TRA to consider other factors, you must apply for a new assessment. In submitting a new application, you only need to supply the additional evidence – you do not need to resubmit all evidence previously supplied.

Section 3 Qualifications

3.1 Australian Qualifications Framework

The Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF) is the national policy for regulated qualifications in Australian education and training. It incorporates the qualifications from each education and training sector into a single, comprehensive, national qualifications framework.

3.2 Qualification documents

If you have been previously assessed by TRA under the Migration Skills Assessment Program, you are not required to resubmit your qualification documents.

If you have been assessed by a TRA-approved RTO, you must provide the Australian qualification (or Offshore Technical Skills Record) issued to you by the RTO and your transcript.

If you wish to have a previously obtained international qualification assessed, the following documents must be included with your application:

- final qualification/s or apprenticeship certificate or award
- a full academic transcript or other documents that include the start and end date of your training, and details of the program of study
- apprenticeship documents such as the contract of apprenticeship, journal or any other relevant document from your employer, governing body or training institution relating to your apprenticeship if applicable.

The following items cannot be used as a substitute for a qualification:

- occupational licences
- trade tests not supported by comparable and verifiable formal training
- short course certificates such as single day or single subject training
- work experience.

3.4 Qualification verification and assessment

When assessing your qualification TRA considers quality, level and relevance.

3.4.1 Quality

TRA will use various assessment sources to verify your training was accredited and regulated by the appropriate governing body in the country of issue. Your qualification/s must be nationally recognised in the country of issue.

3.4.2 Level

As Australian qualifications are awarded at levels on the AQF, TRA must be able to determine that your qualification is comparable to the relevant AQF qualification for your nominated occupation. TRA uses various internal and external assessment sources to determine the comparable level of your qualification.

3.4.3 Relevance

The relevant AQF qualification for Australian occupations assessed by TRA can be found on the Frequently Asked Questions page of the MPA webpage. TRA compares the content of your training (transcripts, syllabus etc.) to the relevant AQF qualification to ensure your training is directly related to your nominated occupation.

If TRA cannot verify your qualification claims, you may be contacted to provide additional evidence.

Section 4 Employment

4.1 Overview

You are required to submit evidence for the periods of employment you are claiming to support your MPA application. This evidence will be used to determine that the claimed periods of employment are at the standard required for your nominated occupation in Australia.

Your employment documents must include:

- descriptions of the tasks and skills undertaken in your nominated occupation
- pay evidence to support all periods of employment being claimed.

4.2 Employment verification

4.2.1 Tasks and skills

TRA refers to the Australian New Zealand Standard Classification of Occupations (ANZSCO) to compare the tasks and skills undertaken in your employment experience with those expected in your nominated occupation in Australia.

4.2.2 Paid employment

TRA requires sufficient evidence to verify your employment was full-time or equivalent part-time, and that your pay is commensurate with the skill level for your position.

TRA considers full-time employment as ongoing employment working the required number of hours considered full-time in the country where the employment was undertaken. Fair Work Australia considers full-time employment in Australia as 38 hours per week, unless a particular industrial award specifies otherwise.

Employment undertaken on a part-time basis will be considered on a pro-rata basis. For example, an applicant who has completed 20 hours of employment per week over a 2 year period will be considered to have completed 12 months full time paid employment.

TRA may also compare the amount you are paid with award rates or other similar instruments to verify claimed employment is at the required skill level.

4.3 Employment documents

4.3.1 Employer Template

You are required to provide a separate Employer Template for each period of employment you wish to claim in support of your application, which must be completed by your employer or manager. If you are self-employed, you must complete the Self-Employment Template for each period of self-employment you wish to claim. These templates are located on the 'How to Apply' page on the Migration Points Advice webpage.

TRA will not accept cut-and-paste employment statements such as a list of tasks and duties copied from an occupation described in ANZSCO.

4.3.2 Payment evidence

You are also required to submit full colour scans of documentary pay evidence so TRA can verify the paid employment claims in your application.

These requirements vary depending on employment type and are specified in the Table 1 below. Please note TRA may request additional evidence if your claims cannot be verified.

To claim Australian employment, you must submit a Payment Summary Information statement from the Australian Taxation Office (ATO). This can be obtained by contacting the ATO on 13 11 42.

4.4 Employment evidence

The employment evidence you are required to provide is based on how you obtained your qualification i.e. awarded internationally, in Australia through a course of study, or from a TRA-approved RTO through a Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) process.

If you obtained your qualification overseas, or by study in Australia, only employment undertaken after the award date of your qualification is considered. TRA will not consider employment that is more than ten years old.

If your qualification was awarded by a TRA-approved RTO through RPL, employment undertaken prior to the awarding of your RPL qualification will be considered, however, the first three years of eligible employment will not be recognised as this is considered to be an informal training period.
